LEO DUROCHER MANAGER

Leo is in his 5th season as manager of the Chicago Cubs, and if the steady improvement of his record continues, 1970 will be "it" for the Cubs. From a last place club in 1966, Leo, in 1969, fired up his ball club to lead the Eastern Division of the National League most of the 1969 season.

The team's second place finish represented the best showing by a Cub team since 1945, when they won the National League pennant. The 1969 club's 92 wins marks the first time the Cubs broke over 90 victories since 1945, when they posted a 98-56 record.

Leo's Team Remains A Strong Contender

Even tho the Cubs did not "win all the marbles" in 1969, Leo promises his club remains a strong contender. A couple of off-season moves have given the Cubs added support in the outfield and the relief pitching staff. The 1969 Cubs improved in both hitting and pitching under Leo. The team batting average climbed from .242 in '68 to .253, home run production from 130 to 142, and RBI production from 576 to 671. And they led the league in fewest times shutout (7).

The pitching staff improved in ERA from 3.41 to 3.34, best for a Cub staff since 1963. And the staff finished second in the league in shutouts (22) and strikeouts (1,017).

Durocher Breeds Success

Leo's background leads to only one conclusion: he knows how to win. He has led 3 National League teams to pennants (the Dodgers in 1941, the Giants in 1951 and '54) and in 1954 led the New York Giants to a spectacular World Series triumph over the Cleveland Indians in 4 straight games.

Leo moved into the managerial ranks in 1939, when he was named player-manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers. He became manager of the Giants in mid-season of 1948, and remained in that capacity through 1955. Leo coached for the Los Angeles Dodgers 4 seasons (1961-64), and was a television network sports commentator in 1965.

Leo developed his fierce competitive spirit as one of the outstanding shortstops during his major league career. He broke into baseball with the Yankees (1925-29), went to Cincinnati for three seasons (1930-33), but gained his real fame after being traded to the St. Louis Cardinals early in the 1933 season.

Leo was shortstop on the famous "Gashouse Gang" that won the National League pennant in 1934 and beat the Detroit Tigers in the World Series. After the 1937 season, he was traded to the Brooklyn Dodgers, where he wound up his playing career (1938-41), and briefly in 1943 and 1945.

THE COACHES

JOSEPH (JOE) BECKER 3

Joe, who is entering his 40th year in pro ball, wanted to retire at the end of last season, but his faith in his talented young pitching staff would not let him. . . . His staff turned in an ERA of 3.34, best for a Cub staff since 1963; accounted for 22 shutouts, second best in the National League; and completed 58 games, third best in the League. . . . And much of the credit is due Joe. . . . Before becoming the Cubs' pitching coach in 1967, he was with St. Louis (1966) and the Dodgers (1965-55). . . . Managed in the lower classifications for 9 seasons (1954-46).

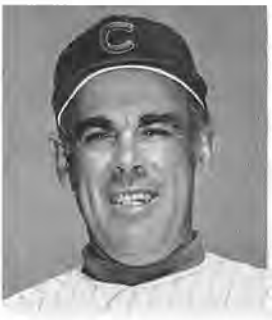
VERLON (RUBE) WALKER 4

Rube is in his 10th season as a Cubs coach, a remarkable endurance record in this game. . . . Lenoir, North Carolina's good will ambassador to the world, Rube is usually in charge of the Cubs' bull pen. . . . He has spent his entire pro career in the Cub organization, signing his first player contract in 1948. . . . Caught for 7 different clubs in the Cubs system. . . . Gained a reputation for working with young players in 4 seasons as a player-manager in the lower classifications. . . . Joined the major league coaching staff in 1961.

JOHN (JOE) AMALFITANO 5

Joe, at 36 the youngest member of the Cubs coaching staff, is usually seen in the first base coaches box. . . . Experienced at all 4 infield positions, Joe specializes in working with infielders. . . . He has been with the Cubs since 1964, first as an active player (1964-66) and since as as a coach. Signed with New York Giants after starring at San Pedro (Calif.) High School. . . . Went to Houston in the 1962 expansion draft, returned to the Giants in 1963. . . . Holds a bachelor's degree in accounting from the University of Southern California.

HARRY (PEANUTS) LOWREY 7



Peanuts, a 10-year major league coach, is returning to the Cubs after an absence of 20 years. . . . He spent most of his playing career with the Cubs, signing his first pro contract with them in 1937. . . . Broke into the major leagues in 1942 to begin a big league career that spanned 13 seasons. . . . Highlight of his career came in the 1945 World Series when he hit .310 for the National League Champion Cubs. Began his coaching career with the Phillies in 1960, coached for the Giants in 1967-68, and was coach for the Expos last season.

THE 1970 CUBS TEAM

TED (ABBY) ABERNATHY 37

PITCHER. Throws Right. Bats Right. Born March 6, 1933. Height 6:04. Weight 210. Married, 2 sons. Home: Gastonia, North Carolina.

One of the few "submarine" pitchers in professional baseball, Abby experienced an off year in 1969. . . . Tho the two-time "Fireman-of-the-Year" compiled a 4-3 record, he chalked up only 3 saves and appeared in only 56 games, his fewest since 1964. . . . Highlight of the 1969 season for Ted came May 25, when he and Bill Hands teamed up to pitch a 1-0 three-hit shutout over San Diego. . . . Abby's best season performance was against New York: he gave up only 2 earned runs in 18 innings against the Mets for an ERA of 1.00. . . . Ted is on his second hitch with the Cubs. . . . He was re-acquired Jan. 11, 1969, from Cincinnati for 3 farm-system players. . . . In 1968 with the Reds, Ted was second only to Phil Regan in relief pitching; he led the league with 78 appearances, was second in games finished (62) and saves (11). . . . Ted won his first "Fireman" award in '65 with the Cubs when he set a pair of major league records — most games by a pitcher and most appearances by a relief pitcher (84). . . . He was traded to Atlanta in May of '66 for Lee Thomas, then drafted from the Braves by Cincinnati in November of '66. . . . In '67, he won his second "Fireman" award when he compiled a 6-3 record with 26 saves and a 1.27 ERA. . . . Ted developed his exaggerated side-arm pitching style following an elbow injury with the Senators in 1956.

HENRY (HANK) AGUIRRE 34

PITCHER. Throws Left. Bats Switch. Born Jan. 31, 1932. Height 6:04. Weight 210. Married, 4 children. Home: Franklin, Michigan.

Hank established himself as the left-handed short relief specialist of the bull pen in his first season as a Cub. . . . Signed as a free agent at the start of spring training in 1969, he appeared in 41 games this past season, compiling an ERA of 2.60, second only to Bill Hands on the Cubs staff. . . . His best performance of the season was vs. Pittsburgh: he allowed the Pirates no runs in 9 innings over 6 games for a perfect 0.00 ERA against them. . . . In 1968, Hank owned an ERA of 0.69 in 25 games for Los Angeles. . . . He was purchased by the Dodgers April 3, 1968, after 10 years in the Detroit organization. . . . Tho a relief pitcher most of his career, highlight of his years with the Tigers was the 1962 season, when he started and compiled a record of 16-8 and an ERA of 2.21. . . . That season he was named to the American League All-Star team. . . . Signed his first pro contract with the Cleveland organization. . . . Went to Detroit Feb. 18, 1958, in exchange for pitcher Hal Woodeshick and catcher-outfielder J. W. Porter.

MATHEW (MATT) ALEXANDER 51

INFIELDER. Bats Switch. Throws Right. Born Jan. 30, 1947. Height 5:10. Weight 162. Married, one child. Home: Shreveport, Louisiana.

Tho on the Cubs major league roster, Matt will not be seen by Cub fans for a while — he is currently on active duty with the U.S. Navy Reserve for 2 years. . . . Signed in 1968, Alexander has played only 136 games in 2 seasons in the Cubs system, but has demonstrated definite hitting potential. . . . He began the 1969 season with the Quincy Cubs, and tho there for only part of the year, he led the club by a wide margin with 23 stolen bases. . . . Had a .274 average for his 71 games at Quincy, contributing 8 home runs and 32 runs-batted-in. . . . Promoted to San Antonio July 27, 1969, he hit .303 there in 30 games. . . . Graduated from Bethune High School (Shreveport) in May of 1965 where he lettered in baseball and basketball. . . . Tho currently in the service, he normally attends Grambling College in the off-season.

ERNEST (ERNIE) BANKS 14

INFIELDER. Bats Right. Throws Right. Born Jan. 31, 1931. Height 6:01. Weight 185. Married, 3 children. Home: Chicago.

Every year, much pre-season speculation is given to the question of whether "this" will be the year Ernie Banks retires. . . . Then each season "Mr. Cub" turns in another performance that not only silences all such speculation, but adds even more prestige to his already impressive credentials as the "Greatest Cub Ever," an honor voted him by Chicago baseball fans last year. . . . In addition, this past winter he was named "Chicagoan of the Year" by the Chicago Press Club, an honor seldom bestowed upon a sports figure.

Ernie sets some sort of career record nearly every time he steps up to bat, and in 1970 he is sure to reach one of the most exalted plateaus in baseball. . . . He owns a total of 497 career home runs entering the 1970 season, only 3 short of the magic 500 mark. . . . Only 8 major leaguers in history have hit 500 or more homers, and only two are still active in the game: Willie Mays and Hank Aaron. . . . In addition, Ernie also took over first place in two more Cub all-time offensive departments: he scored 60 runs to push his career mark to 1,276, ahead of Stan Hack's 1,239 career runs; and Ernie smashed 19 doubles last year to boost his career total to 399, passing Gabby Hartnett's 391 career doubles. . . . Also last season, Ernie was second only to Ron Santo with 23 homers, and 106 RBIs, his best season RBI mark since '65 when he drove in the same number. . . . Ernie passed a couple of milestones in 1969: May 13, he drove in the 1,500th run of his career (in the same game he drove in 7 runs, his most RBIs for one game since 1955), and Sept. 19, Ernie collected the 2,500th hit of his career.

Everyone is aware of Ernie's hitting ability, but his defensive talent is often overlooked. . . . In 1969, Ernie led the National League's first basemen in fielding, with a .997 mark. . . . He was second in games (153) and led the league in putouts (1,419) and total chances accepted (1,510). . . . In 1959, Ernie set an all-time major league record for fielding percentage as a shortstop.

Among other accomplishments, Ernie has now appeared in 13 All-Star games. . . . He was named Most Valuable Player in the National League two straight seasons (1958-59). . . . He has been a player-coach since Feb. 28, 1967. . . . Ernie joined the Cubs Sept. 14, 1953, after purchase of his contract from the Kansas City Monarchs.

GLENN BECKERT 18

INFIELDER. Bats Right Throws Right. Born Oct. 12, 1940. Height 6:01. Weight 190. Married, one daughter. Home: Park Ridge, Illinois.

Glenn was poised to hit the peak of his career in 1969, but a series of injuries forced him to miss more than 30 games, enough to put a crimp in what could have been his "big" season. . . . However, he still managed to turn in the kind of a season that makes him one of the best second basemen in the major leagues. . . . For the 4th straight year he was the "Toughest to Strike Out" in the National League with only 22 whiffs in 543 at-bats; he made his first appearance on the National League All-Star team; he was named to the "Sporting News" all-star team at the end of the season; he hit .291, second only to Billy Williams on the Cubs; and Aug. 4 he went 5-for-6 against Houston to become the only Cub all season to collect 5 hits in one game. . . . Glenn must have also set some sort of record for trips to the hospital. . . . He suffered 3 major injuries: he was knocked out and hospitalized April 16 after a collision with Mike Shannon; he required 15 stitches May 12 after being hit in the chin by a pitch; and he suffered a broken thumb June 6 tagging Tony Cloninger in a play at second. . . . His "up-and-down" 1969 season followed a '68 season when he was named "Chicago Player of the Year" by the Chicago Baseball Writers; when he was named to both press service all-star teams; when he was the "Gold Glove" winner as the best fielding second baseman in the league; when he led the Cubs in hitting with a .294 average; and when he appeared in more games than any other second baseman in the League. . . . Glenn is one of the few major league players who chokes up the bat, excels in bat control, and is the master of "hitting behind the runner." . . . He was obtained by the Cubs from the Red Sox organization via the first-year draft in 1962. . . . He's a graduate of Allegheny College.

MARK (RANDY) BOBB 13

CATCHER. Bats Right. Throws Right. Born Jan. 1, 1948. Height 6:01. Weight 190. Single. Home: Tempe, Arizona.

Randy, who demonstrates a talent for clutch hitting, was the batting hero of the Pacific Coast League play-offs, collecting all 3 of Tacoma Cubs' RBIs in the final 2 games of the 5-game series. . . . With Tacoma down 2 games to one against Eugene (Ore.), Randy hit a bases-loaded single to drive in 2 runs as the T-Cubs won 2-0. . . . The next day, in the final game of the series, Randy came through with a sacrifice fly to drive in the T-Cubs first run as they won the Pacific Coast League championship with another 2-0 victory over Eugene. . . . After the season, he was elected to the PCL All-Star second team. . . . This past winter, he hit .304 for the Cubs in the Arizona Instructional League while attending classes at Arizona State. . . . He had been called up to Chicago in September, following the PCL play-offs, but appeared in only 3 games. . . . Randy spent most of the 1968 season with San Antonio, driving in 25 runs in 64 games. . . . At Chicago for a short time in '68, Bobb gained the distinction of throwing out Pete Rose, one of the National League's more active base runners, when Rose attempted to steal second base on the first major league pitch handled by the rookie receiver. . . . Was a member of the Arizona State NCAA World Series champs in 1967.

DEAN BURK 40

PITCHER. Throws Right. Bats Right. Born Oct. 24, 1947. Height 6:06. Weight 216. Married, one son. Home: Highland, Illinois.

Dean was the top pitcher on the Cubs team at San Antonio in 1969, leading the Missions in almost every pitching statistic. . . . He compiled a 12-11 won-lost record, with an ERA of 3.42. . . . Dean led the League in innings pitched (200), games started (30), and was second in complete games (12). . . . Burk was elected to the Texas League All-Star team in mid-season, and pitched 2 innings of hitless ball in the All-Star game. . . . This past winter, Burk was the top pitcher in the Arizona Instructional League, leading the league in percentage with a 7-1 record, and leading the league in wins. . . . A whopping young man who looks like he would be more at home in a football uniform than a baseball uniform, Dean pitched a no-hitter for San Antonio in 1968. . . . Dean pitched 3 no-hitters his senior year in high school. . . . He was the Cubs No. 1 draft choice in 1966.

JOHN (JOHNNY) CALLISON 6

OUTFIELDER. Bats Left. Throws Right. Born March 12, 1939. Height 5:10. Weight 178. Married, 2 children. Home: Glenside, Pennsylvania.

A star outfielder for the Philadelphia Phillies, Johnny Callison was acquired by the Cubs Nov. 18, 1969, in exchange for Dick Selma and Oscar Gamble. . . . The two-time All-Star outfielder owns 189 career home runs, going into 1970, and was 4th on the Phillies' all-time home run list. . . . Johnny, who averaged 18 homers a season for Philadelphia, is also known as one of the premier defensive outfielders in the game. . . . Last season, he committed only 3 errors in 134 games to finish third in the league. . . . He did not commit a single error in 1968 to lead the National League in outfield defense. . . . John holds the major league record in leading outfielders in assists the most seasons (1962-65), a tribute to his great arm. . . . John set a career high in 1969 with a 12-game hitting streak. . . . He hit two homers against San Francisco in a single game August 6. . . . Owns 3 grandslam homers. . . . Despite a pulled muscle in 1968, he still was second only to Richie Allen in game winning RBIs for the Phils. . . . He was third in that category in 1969. . . . Signed to his first pro contract by the Chicago White Sox in 1957, John was acquired by Philadelphia Dec. 8, 1959, in exchange for Gene Freese.

JAMES (JIM) COLBORN 48

PITCHER. Throws Right. Bats Right. Born May 22, 1946. Height 6:00. Weight 185. Married. Home: Santa Paula, California.

Jim, in only his 3rd year of professional ball, proved to be one of the vital cogs in the Tacoma Cubs' championship team in the Pacific Coast League. . . . Colborn was not only the top pitcher in the PCL with a 2.28 ERA, but he was also the winning pitcher for Tacoma in the deciding game of the league play-offs. . . . He started and pitched scoreless ball for 5 innings against Eugene (Ore.) that day as the Cubs won the game 2-0 to take the PCL title. . . . Colborn was called to Chicago in mid-season (July 11-Aug. 9) and won his first major league start July 13 vs. Philadelphia. . . . Signed in 1967 by the Cubs after graduation from Whittier (Calif.) College, Jim pitched at Lodi (A) and San Antonio (AA) his first 2 seasons as a pro before the big jump to Triple-A ball last year. . . . Colborn is working on his Master's Degree in sociology from the University of Washington in his spare time, and missed spring training a year ago while completing a special study course at the University of Edinboro, Scotland. . . . Starred in basketball as well as baseball at Whittier. . . . Graduated from Santa Paula High School in 1963, where he played baseball, basketball, and football.

GEORGE (JOE) DECKER 36

PITCHER. Throws Right. Bats Right. Born June 16, 1947. Height 6:00. Weight 175. Single. Home: San Rafael, California.

Joe played a key role in the Tacoma Cubs' march to the championship in the Pacific Coast League last year. . . . He finished 10th in the PCL with a 3.30 ERA, led Tacoma with 23 games started, and tied for most wins on the club with 10. . . . In addition, he came through with a vital victory in the play-offs: down 2-0 in the best-of-five series, the T-Cubs were against the wall when Joe started No. 3. . . . He allowed Eugene (Ore.) only one run in 7⅔ innings to lead Tacoma to a 2-1 win and new life in the play-offs. . . . Decker was called to Chicago after the play-offs, and appeared in 4 games, pitching 12 innings. . . . Made his first major league start and appearance Sept. 18, with no decision in 6 innings vs. Philadelphia. . . . Registered his first major league decision the final day of the 1969 season, pitching 4 innings of scoreless ball against the Mets Oct. 2, to give the Cubs a 5-3 win. . . . Joe hit his stride midway through the '68 season when promoted to Tacoma. . . . After compiling only 19 walks and 75 strike-outs at Lodi, he fashioned an ERA of 1.80 at Tacoma, with 5 complete games in 9 starts. . . . In the Arizona Instructional League the winter of 1968, he put together a 5-1 record in 6 starts. . . . Prior to signing his first pro contract in 1965, Joe pitched his hometown American Legion baseball team to second place in the California state tournament.

ALEC DISTASO 45

PITCHER. Throws Right. Bats Right. Born Dec. 23, 1948. Height 6:02. Weight 190. Single. Home: Los Angeles, California.

In spite of the fact that he had only two years of pro ball under his belt, Alec performed well enough in spring training camp a year ago to earn a berth on the major league club.

. . . His lack of experience caught up with him however, and after pitching only 5 innings for the Cubs, he was optioned to San Antonio May 10. . . . With the Missions last season, he pitched 124 innings. . . . Distaso was one of the top pitchers in the Midwest League in 1968, as a member of the Quincy Cubs. . . . Led the league in victories with 13 and was 7th in ERA with a 3.30 mark. . . . Promoted to Tacoma the last weeks of the season, he got in only 13 innings with the T-Cubs, but compiled an excellent 2.08 ERA. . . . At the Arizona Winter Instructional League the winter of '68, he put together a 3-0 record with a stingy 1.75 ERA. . . . Graduated from Wilson High School (Los Angeles) in February of 1967, where he helped lead his team to a berth in the city playoffs 2 years in a row. . . . Selected all-city and all-league 2 straight years. . . . Also played football in high school. . . . Played semi-pro ball with the Montebello, California, Braves.

JAMES (JIM) DUNEGAN 44

PITCHER-OUTFIELDER. Throws Right. Bats Right. Born Aug. 6, 1947. Height 6:01. Weight 205. Married, one daughter. Home: Burlington, Iowa.

Jim is a muscular, hard-working young man who intends to make it to the major leagues one way or another. . . . One of Tacoma's power hitters in the T-Cubs drive for the Pacific Coast League championship last season, Jim spent this past winter at the Arizona Instructional League working on his pitching. . . . At Tacoma, Jim led the club with 9 triples, was 2nd with 26 doubles, 3rd with 9 homers and 54 RBIs. . . . And Jim set an all-time PCL record by taking part in 10 double plays as an outfielder. . . . However, he also set a league record with 122 strike-outs. . . . Jim's taste of pitching in the pros and in college has convinced him to try his hand at hurling. . . . In the Arizona Instructional League this winter, he was in 6 games, starting 4, for a 2-0 record in 25 innings. . . . He pitched briefly at Quincy in both 1968 and '67. . . . Also at Quincy in '68, Jim led the Midwest League with 25 doubles, and 49 of his 109 hits, or almost half, were for extra bases. . . . Attended Iowa State and Bacone Jr. College, helping Bacone to the national junior college baseball tournament in '67 as both a hitter and pitcher. . . . Graduated from Burlington High, where he was an All-Stater in baseball and football, and captained his baseball, football, basketball, and tennis teams.

JOHNNY HAIRSTON 43

CATCHER. Bats Right. Throws Right. Born Aug. 29, 1945. Height 6:02. Weight 190. Married, 2 children. Home: Tacoma, Washington.

Johnny, signed by the Cubs to his first pro contract in 1965, last year made the jump all the way from AA ball all the way to the major leagues in one season. . . . He began the 1969 season at San Antonio, the Cubs' representative in the Texas League, and after 17 games there, was promoted to Tacoma, May 12, where he became one of the T-Cubs' most feared pinch hitters. . . . Johnny went to the plate 51 times for Tacoma, most as a pinch hitter, and hit for a .451 average. . . . . Of his 23 hits, 9 were for extra bases. . . . Aug. 25, he was promoted to Chicago to shore up the Cubs injury-plagued catching corps. . . . Hairston's best performance prior to last season was 1967 at Lodi where he hit .280 in 121 games and registered a career high of 14 home runs and 76 runs-batted-in. . . . A graduate of Southern University (Baton Rouge, La.), Johnny led his college team to a berth in the NAIA national baseball tournament his senior year. . . . He was graduated from Hooper High (Birmingham, Ala.) in 1962, after leading his team to 3 conference championships. . . . Also played basketball and football in high school. . . . Johnny's father, Sam Hairston, is a scout for the Chicago White Sox and former catcher for the Sox.

JIMMIE HALL 23

OUTFIELDER. Bats Left. Throws Right. Born March 17, 1938. Height 6:00. Weight 175. Married, 4 children. Home: Mt. Holly, N.C.

Jimmie, a two-time All Star outfielder in the American League was purchased by the Cubs late in the 1969 season (Sept. 12) from the New York Yankees to help with center field chores. . . . With the Cubs only for the closing days of the season, he appeared in 11 games. . . . Jimmie's final game with the Yanks, before coming to Chicago, he broke up a no-hit bid by Dick Bosman of the Washington Senators with a double in the 8th inning. . . . Hall was named to the American League All-Star team in 1964 and again in '65, and appeared in the 1965 World Series with the Minnesota Twins. . . . In 1963, Jimmie set an American League record, previously held by Ted Williams, when he hit 33 home runs as a rookie. . . . In his 4 seasons at Minnesota, Jimmie averaged 24 homers and 72 runs-batted-in a year. . . . His major league career average for homers is 17 a season. . . . He was traded by the Twins Dec. 2, 1966, to the California Angels in a 5-player deal that sent Dean Chance to Minnesota. . . . Hall was traded to Cleveland June 15, 1968. . . . Went to the Yankees April 14 of last season.

WILLIAM (BILL) HANDS 49

PITCHER. Throws Right. Bats Right. Born May 6, 1940. Height 6:02. Weight 185. Married, 3 children. Home: Parsippany, New Jersey.

Bill, named the "Chicago Player of the Year" by the Chicago Baseball Writers this past winter, proved to be the Cubs' steadiest pitcher in 1969. . . . He led the club with the lowest ERA, 2.49, turned in his first 20-game winning season, and pitched a career high of 300 innings. . . . Bill was also responsible for breaking the Cubs' disastrous September slump. . . . They had dropped 8 straight when Bill beat St. Louis 5-1, Sept. 12, and then the club lost 3 more before Bill defeated Montreal 5-4 on his next start. . . . Earlier in the year, Hands snapped two 5-game losing streaks, beating Montreal 2-0 June 20 and New York 6-2 July 10 to put the Cubs back on the track. . . . He blanked 3 teams over the '69 season, with records of 4-0 over Montreal, 2-0 over Houston, and 2-0 over San Diego. . . . When Bill won his 20th game last year beating Pittsburgh 3-1 Sept. 28, he broke an 11-game Cub losing streak at Forbes Field that dated back to July 15, 1968. . . . In 1968, Bill established himself as a starter, winning 16 games, second only to Fergie Jenkins, leading the staff with 4 shutouts, and allowing only 1.39 walks per 9 innings to be the club's top control artist. . . . In '67, he was the top reliever on the staff, with an ERA of 2.46. . . . Was acquired from the San Francisco Giants, along with Randy Hundley, on Dec. 2, 1965, in exchange for Lindy McDaniel and Don Landrum. . . . Signed by the Giants in 1958 after starring in baseball, football, and basketball at Rutherford (N.J.) High. . . . Bill attended Ohio Wesleyan and Fairleigh-Dickinson Universities.

WILLIAM (BILL) HEATH 19

CATCHER. Bats Left. Throws Right. Born March 10, 1939. Height 5:09. Weight 180. Married, one daughter. Home: Houston, Texas.

The date of Ken Holtzman's no-hitter last season, Aug. 19, is one that Bill Heath will not soon forget. . . . It wasn't only the thrill of catching that game which will stick in Bill's mind, but a lot of pain as well. . . . He suffered a broken index finger on his right hand when he caught a foul tip in the 7th inning. . . . He was out the remainder of the season. . . . Heath was signed as a free agent by the Tacoma Cubs during spring training of 1969. . . . He was hitting an even .300 when his contract was acquired by the Cubs May 10. . . . Bill is launching his 10th season in pro ball, with major league time at Houston, Detroit, and the White Sox. . . . He hit .301 in 55 games for Houston in 1966. . . . Signed originally by the Philadelphia organization in 1960, he broke into pro ball with Bakersfield of the California League that year hitting .356. . . . Graduated from the University of Southern California with a degree in education in 1960, after leading USC to the conference title and 2nd place in the College World Series.

JAMES (JIM) HICKMAN 28

OUTFIELDER. Bats Right. Throws Right. Born May 10, 1937. Height 6:04. Weight 205. Married, 4 sons. Home: Henning, Tennessee.

Jim was the Cubs' most reliable stick man through the final 2 months of the 1969 season. . . . He played a reserve role until Aug. 3, when installed in the line-up as a regular. . . . From then on he began to sting the ball with authority — in 27 games in August he walloped 10 homers, drove in 25 runs and averaged .301. . . . He continued to be a strong performer in September, driving in 31 of his 54 RBIs the final 2 months of the season, as well as hitting 14 of his 21 homers during the same period. . . . Jim totaled only 338 times at-bat, but in RBIs-per-time-at-bat he was topped only by Ron Santo and Ernie Banks. . . . Acquired by the Cubs April 23, 1968, in the same deal that brought Phil Regan from the Los Angeles Dodgers (for Ted Savage and Jim Ellis), Jim was first assigned to the Tacoma Cubs. . . . After hitting at a .351 clip there, he was called up May 23, 1968. . . . Signed originally by the St. Louis Cardinals organization in 1956, he became a charter member of the New York Mets when selected in the expansion draft Oct. 10, 1961. . . . Named to the all star team of the Georgia-Florida State League in 1957, after leading the league in home runs, total bases, RBI, and fielding as an outfielder. . . . Attended Memphis State and the University of Mississippi. . . . Won 12 high school letters at Ripley, Tenn., in baseball, football, and basketball.

KENNETH (KEN) HOLTZMAN 30

PITCHER. Throws Left. Bats Right. Born Nov. 3, 1945. Height 6:00. Weight 175. Single. Home: University City, Missouri.

Ken enjoyed the best season of his young career in 1969. . . . He recorded a personal high of 17 victories and registered the highlight of his short career enroute to his 16th win of the season: a no-hit 3-0 victory over the Atlanta Braves Aug. 19, at Wrigley Field. . . . His no-hit effort was not without its problems. . . . Regular catcher Randy Hundley was hospitalized with an ear infection, so Bill Heath began the game behind the plate; in the 7th inning, Heath suffered a broken finger on a foul tip, and the Cubs' only other catcher in uniform, Gene Oliver, completed the game behind the plate. . . . Surprisingly, Ken did not record one strike-out in the no-hitter. . . . Earlier in the season, Ken put together a string of 33 consecutive scoreless innings, only 6 short of the club record set by Bill Lee in 1938. . . . And he matched a personal high with 3 shutout games in a row; blanking San Francisco 8-0 May 11, Houston 11-0 May 16, and Los Angeles 7-0, May 20. . . . A better than average stick man for a pitcher, Ken was second on the mound staff with 13 hits and 6 RBIs. . . . In 1968, Ken was called away from the club 10 different times to complete military obligations, but he got hot in mid-season and pitched 3 straight shutouts. . . . In 1967, he was with the club only 6 weeks, mostly on weekends, and still managed an amazing record of 9-0 and an ERA of 2.52, second only to Bill Hands. . . . In 1966, his rookie year, Ken led the team in wins and strike-outs. . . . Attended University of Illinois and was named "Sophomore Athlete of the Year" before signing with the Cubs. . . . Later graduated with a major in French. . . . Graduated in 1963 from University City High School, where he was named Most Valuable Player on the state championship team his senior year.

TERRY HUGHES 17

INFIELDER. Bats Right. Throws Right. Born May 13, 1949. Height 6:01. Weight 185. Single. Home: Spartanburg, South Carolina.

Last season was only half a season for Terry Hughes. . . . Terry, assigned to San Antonio, suffered a fractured jaw July 26 in a collision at second base, and did not play the remainder of the year. . . . About the time he was to come off the disabled list, Aug. 15, he was called to 6 months active duty in the South Carolina National Guard. . . . Terry hit .249 for San Antonio last year while struggling with a weight problem. . . . In 1968, he hit .328 for San Antonio the final weeks of the season, after being promoted from Quincy. . . . He began the '68 season at Greenville of the Western Carolinas League, on loan to that team so he might complete his college semester. . . . Hughes graduated from Dorman High School (Spartanburg) in 1967, after captaining the baseball and basketball teams his senior year. . . . Was the Most Valuable Player on the baseball team that year, and All-State in basketball. . . . Played American Legion ball 3 summers. . . . Terry was the Cubs No. 1 selection in the free agent draft in June of 1967.

C. RANDOLPH (RANDY) HUNDLEY 9

CATCHER. Bats Right. Throws Right. Born June 1, 1942. Height 6:00. Weight 175. Married, 3 children. Home: Martinsville, Virginia.

Randy continued to add to his reputation as an "Iron Man" catcher for the Chicago Cubs. . . . Randy, who made his first appearance on the National League All-Star team in 1969, continued also to be among the League leaders in defense. . . . He led the League with the fewest errors by a catcher (9); most double plays (17); tied for the lead in appearances (151 games) and assists (79); was second in putouts (978) and total chances (1065); and finished third in overall defense (.992) a scant two percentage points out of first place. . . . At the plate, Randy also had an excellent season: he hit for the second best average of his career, was one off his career season high for home runs, and was one RBI short of his 1968 career high of 65 RBI in a season. . . . He walloped a grand slam homer May 28 to lead the team to a 9-8 win over San Francisco. . . . In 1968, Randy finished second in defense by one percentage point, while setting a major league record for most appearances by a catcher (160 of 163 games). . . . In 1967, Randy won the "Gold Glove" award as the top defensive catcher in the league, and committed only 4 errors to set an all-time major league record. . . . And he allowed only 4 passed balls to tie the major league mark and set the National League record. . . . In 1966, he set a National League record for most games caught by a rookie, slammed 19 homers (the most by a Cub catcher since Gabby Hartnett hit 22 in 1934) and was elected to the Rookie All-Star Team. . . . He was obtained, along with Bill Hands, from the San Francisco Giants Dec. 2, 1965 (for Lindy McDaniel and Don Landrum). . . . Starred in baseball, football, and basketball at Bassett (Va.) High before signing with the Giants in 1960.

PAT THOMAS JACQUEZ 33

PITCHER. Throws Right. Bats Right. Born April 23, 1947. Height 6:00. Weight 200. Married. Home: Stockton, California.

Pat spent the entire 1969 season with the San Antonio Missions and missed by only 7 innings being the top pitcher in the Texas League. . . . Pat compiled an ERA of 2.13 in 131 innings, just short of the 138 innings needed to qualify for the pitching championship. . . . The best ERA in the league that qualified was 2.40. . . . Tho Pat has been primarily a relief pitcher in his pro career, he started 17 of the 24 games in which he appeared, an indication his talent might be as a starter. . . . Working mostly as a starter for the Cubs team in the Winter Instructional League in Arizona, Jacquez racked up an impressive 5-0 record. . . . He was invited to the Cubs spring training camp in 1969 after only two seasons as a pro. . . . Spent the '68 season at San Antonio as a reliever. . . . In 1967, his rookie year in the pro ranks, he compiled a 12-6 record at Lodi. . . . He played semi-pro ball in 1966 and '65. . . . Lettered in basketball and baseball at Santa Clara University. . . . Won 6 letters in basketball and baseball at Stagg High (Stockton) and won Most Valuable Player honors in baseball, 1965 and '64.

FERGUSON (FERGIE) JENKINS 31

PITCHER. Throws Right Bats Right. Born Dec. 13, 1943. Height 6:05. Weight 205. Married. Home: South Chatham, Ontario, Canada.

Fergie, a 20-game winner for the third straight season in 1969, is on the threshold of becoming a super-star. . . . He's the first Cub pitcher to win 20 or more games 3 seasons in a row since Hippo Vaughn did it 1917-1919. . . . Fergie also set a couple of records in 1969: he started 42 games, breaking the old record of 40 set by Grover Cleveland Alexander in 1920 and equaled by Jenkins in 1968, and he set a club record for strike-outs for the third straight year, with 273. . . . He had 23 complete games, the third year in a row he has had at least 20 complete games, and he worked 311⅓ innings. . . . In addition to leading the club in almost every pitching statistic, he was also the best hitter on the mound staff; he collected 15 hits, two doubles, a triple, and a homer for 9 runs-batted-in, and 7 sacrifice hits to lead pitchers in those categories. . . . Tho he won 20 games in 1968, Fergie was beset with problems. . . . He tied a major league record for being the starting pitcher in five 1-0 losses, and he set a club record by being the starting pitcher in 9 games when the Cubs were shut out. . . . In 1967, Fergie was a starting pitcher for his first full season. . . . He led the league in complete games, with 20, was second in strike-outs, and second in victories. . . . Fergie was a relief pitcher when obtained by the Cubs, along with Adolfo Phillips, in April of 1966 when Larry Jackson and Bob Buhl were traded to Philadelphia. . . . His debut with the Cubs was memorable: he beat the Dodgers in relief, belting a homer to win the game. . . . One of the few Canadian-born major leaguers, he was signed by the Philadelphia organization after graduation from Chatham Vocational High School.

KENNETH (KEN) JOHNSON 46

PITCHER. Throws Right. Bats Right. Born April 14, 1956. Height 6:04. Weight 222. Married, 3 children. Home: West Palm Beach, Florida.

Ken, a veteran knuckleball specialist, was purchased by the Cubs from the New York Yankees August 11, 1969. . . . Acquired primarily as a reliever, he appeared in 9 games the last month and a half of the season. . . . Ken began the '69 season with Atlanta, the team he had been with since 1965 and he was sold to the Yankees June 9 before arriving in Chicago. . . . While with the Yanks, Ken racked up the 90th win of his major league career, a 6⅓ inning, one-hit performance 2 days prior to coming to Chicago. . . . Also in 1969, Ken pushed his major league strike-out total over the 1,000 mark. . . . Johnson signed his first pro contract in 1952, and broke into the major leagues in 1958 with Kansas City. . . . After spending part of the 1961 season with Cincinnati, including a World Series appearance for the Reds that year, he was selected by Houston in the expansion draft Oct. 10, 1961. . . . At Houston, he pitched a no-hit game against Cincinnati (April 23, 1964) only to lose it 1-0 on 2 errors in the 9th. . . . Traded to the Braves in 1965, Ken, used mainly as a starter there, compiled a 45-33 record in a little more than 3 seasons. . . . His best year in the lower classifications was 1959, when he pitched 16 wins for Portland, was elected to the Pacific Coast League All-Star Team, and led the League in complete games and innings pitched.

RONALD (RON) JONES 54

Ron Jones, with less than two full seasons of professional ball under his belt, was invited to his first major league spring training camp in 1970. . . . Ron pitched only in 10 games last season, before entering the Army June 30 for 6 months of active duty. . . . Drafted in 1968 after graduation from West Covina High School, he got off to a good start, with a 3-1 record at Treasure Valley, the Cubs team in the rookie Pioneer League. . . . In high school, Ron played baseball, football, and basketball. . . . Named captain of baseball team one year. . . . Named to All-Conference teams two years. . . . He pitched two no-hitters in high school, and racked up 18 strike-outs in one 7 inning game. . . . Played American Legion, Colt League, and Little League Baseball, making all-star teams in each classification.

DONALD (DON) KESSINGER 11

INFIELDER. Bats Switch. Throws Right. Born July 17, 1942. Height 6:01. Weight 175. Married, 2 sons. Home: Northbrook, Illinois.

The best shortstop in the National League—that's the only way to describe Don. . . .In 1969, he was the National League All-Star shortstop for the second year in a row, he was named to the "Sporting News" and Associated Press all-star teams at the end of the season, and he won the "Gold Glove" award for leading the league in defense as a shortstop. . . . His defensive credentials are impressive; he not only led the league in defensive percentage (.976), but he led in every defensive category: most games (157), fewest errors, 150 or more games (20), total chances (828), and most double plays (101). . . . If that was not enough, he also set a major league record by playing 54 straight games without an error. (The old record of 53 consecutive was set by Chico Carasquel of the White Sox in 1951). . . . In addition, he enjoyed a standout year at the plate. . . . He reached base safely in every one of the Cubs first 41 games of the '69 season. . . . He led the club by scoring 109 runs, he drove in 53 runs, the best season output of his career thus far. . . . And he hit 38 doubles, more than twice his previous best mark of 14. . . . In 1968, Don was elected to his first All-Star berth. . . . He led the league in 4 defensive statistics. . . . He hit .296 right-handed, and led the club in stolen bases and sacrifice flies, and he collected the most hits in one game for the season, hitting 5 vs. Cincinnati Aug. 11. . . . In 1967, Don was 4th in the league in defense, and reeled-off 29 straight errorless games. . . . Don signed with the Cubs' organization in 1964 after starring as an all-conference player in baseball and basketball at the University of Mississippi.

DAVID (DAVE) LEMONDS 47

Dave is a young pitcher with plenty of promise. . . . The Cubs No. 1 choice in the special phase of the 1968 free agent draft, he played with no less than 4 different clubs in 1969, including a short stint with the major league club. . . . He compiled a 9-8 record for the year. . . . This past winter he had a 2-2 record in the Arizona Instructional League. . . . Dave finished the regular season with Tacoma, putting together a 4-2 record there, and contributing one-third of an inning of hitless relief in Tacoma's Pacific Coast League championship victory. . . . Dave was optioned to the T-Cubs after developing a slight muscle strain while with the big club. . . . He began the '69 season on loan to Raleigh-Durham of the Carolina League so that he might complete his year's studies at the University of North Carolina. . . . He was then promoted to San Antonio, where he registered 12 strike-outs, only 2 short of the league high for a game, against Amarillo. . . . From San Antonio, he traveled to Chicago, then Tacoma. . . . Dave also demonstrated talent with the bat on several occasions: at Raleigh-Durham, he drove in 4 runs in one game with a 3-run homer and a single. . . . He graduated from Garinger High (Charlotte) in 1966, where he lettered 3 years and captained his baseball team one year. . . . Also played semi-pro and American Legion ball.

Jimmy divided the 1969 season between San Antonio and Tacoma. . . . He hit .300 in 43 games with the Missions, then June 12, he was promoted to Tacoma. . . . Highlight of the season for Jimmy came with the T-Cubs: July 13 he hit a homer and a triple in the same inning as Tacoma scored 12 runs in the inning to beat Tucson 13-1. . . . In 1968, McMath was on 3 different clubs. . . . Began the season with Quincy, and after hitting .388 through the first half, he was promoted to San Antonio. . . . With the Missions, he tied the Texas League high for the season with 5 hits in one game, and hit his first grand slam homer as a pro. . . . Sept. 3, he received his first call to Chicago, and made his first major league appearance 4 days later at the ripe old age of 19. . . . He went 1-for-5 that day, including an RBI, but more importantly did not strike out once in his first look at major league pitching. . . . Jimmy graduated from Douid High School (Tuscaloosa) in 1967. . . . Won 4 letters in baseball, 3 in basketball, and captained both teams. . . . Also won All-Conference All-State honors in basketball while leading his team to the Alabama state championship.

Nate, purchased from the Yankees April 19 of last season to add bench strength to the Cubs infield, saw limited action. . . . However, called on to fill in for the injured Glenn Beckert one series, he performed admirably. . . . May 12, the opening game of a 3-game series against San Diego, Beckert was hit in the chin by a pitched ball in his first at-bat and forced to miss the series. . . . Nate played out the series at second base, hitting .455, including 3 doubles, one in each game, a homer and 4 runs-batted-in in one game. . . . The homer was only Nate's second in his major league career; the other one he hit in 1963 for the Dodgers. . . . Originally tabbed as the heir-

PAUL POPOVICH 22

INFIELDER. Bats Switch. Throws Right. Born Aug. 18, 1940. Height 6:00. Weight 175. Single. Home: Morgantown, West Virginia.

Paul was the only Cub to hit over .300 last season, turning in a .312 average in 60 games with Chicago. . . . He was acquired from Montreal in exchange for Adolfo Phillips, for his second tour of duty with the Cubs. . . . A product of the Cubs' farm system, Paul was traded to Los Angeles in November, 1967, for Lou Johnson. . . . Paul was inserted in the line-up as soon as he joined the Cubs to replace Glenn Beckert, who had suffered a broken thumb 5 days earlier. . . . Popovich went right to work, hitting .357 in his first 6 games with the Cubs, including a home run and 6 RBIs. . . . Sometimes called "The Iceman" for his coolness under pressure, he is recognized to have the finest defensive hands in the league, and can field shortstop, second base, and third base positions with equal ease. . . . Playing regularly for the Dodgers in 1968, he hit .338 the final month of the season. . . . Converted to a switch hitter with the Cubs Instructional League team during the 1966-67 winter, he promptly hit .340 in that league. . . . Attended West Virginia University where he was named to the All-Southern Conference baseball team and lettered in basketball as well. . . . In high school at Flemington, West Virginia, he was named to the all-star conference teams in baseball and basketball 3 years.

JAMES (JIMMY) QUALLS 42

INFIELDER-OUTFIELDER. Bats Switch. Throws Right. Born Oct. 9, 1946. Height 5:10. Weight 155. Married, 2 sons. Home: Lodi, California.

Jimmy ranked behind only Don Young in the number of games played in center field for the Cubs last season, even though he is primarily an infielder. . . . However, he played flawlessly, not committing an error in 35 games in center, and demonstrated the hustle and determination of which major leaguers are made. . . . Jimmy was invited to the major league spring training camp for the first time last year, and broke camp with the big club. . . . He was optioned to Tacoma April 19, then recalled June 7, when he was hitting at a .318 clip for the T-Cubs. . . . Six days after reporting to Chicago, Jimmy scored the winning run in a 14-8 slugfest with Cincinnati when he somersaulted over Reds catcher Pat Corrales in a play at home plate. . . . He later made headlines in the East, when on July 9, he singled in the 9th inning to break-up a no-hit bid by Tom Seaver of the Mets. . . . August 22 marked the end of the 1969 season for Jimmy; he suffered a jammed shoulder when he hit the center field wall at Wrigley Field chasing a fly ball, and was out of action the rest of the year. . . . In 1968, he started the season at San Antonio and played most of the year there. . . . He graduated in 1964 from Western High School (Tulare, Calif.), where he was captain of the baseball team 2 years and of the basketball team one season, and a conference all-star basketball player one season. . . . Jimmy played American Legion ball for two years.

PHILIP (PHIL) REGAN 27

PITCHER. Throws Right. Bats Right. Born April 6, 1937. Height 6:03. Weight 200. Married, 3 children. Home: Byron Centre, Michigan.

Phil, a two-time "National League Fireman of the Year" winner, once again was the Cubs' top relief pitcher. . . . Regan, altho some what off from a great 1968 season, turned in a record of 12-6, with 17 saves. . . . He led the Cubs pitching staff with 71 appearances and 49 games finished. . . . While many National League pitchers had their troubles with the New York Mets, Phil compiled his best season effort against the New Yorkers: a 2-0 won-lost record, along with 2 saves and an ERA of 0.90 against them in 7 relief appearances. . . . Phil walked away with the "Fireman" honors in 1968, with 10 wins, 21 saves, and an ERA of 2.19. . . . Regan had the distinction of winning both games of a doubleheader twice in '68, July 7 with the Cubs, and April 21 with the Dodgers. . . . He was obtained April 23 from Los Angeles, along with outfielder Jim Hickman, for Ted Savage and Jim Ellis. . . . Regan hit the heights with the Dodgers after being obtained from Detroit in 1966. . . . Converted to a relief pitcher by the Dodgers, Phil racked up an incredible 14-1 record and 1.62 ERA in '66 to help the Dodgers to the '66 National League flag. . . . Won his first "Fireman" award as well as "Comeback Player of the Year" award for his efforts that season. . . .Had the distinction of pitching without a loss from May 13, 1966, to May 15, 1967, taking part in 42 victories, receiving credits for 15 of the wins himself, and registering saves in connection with 7 other victories. . . . Signed his first pro contract in 1956 with the Detroit organization. . . . Broke into the majors in 1960 with the Tigers.

ARCHIE REYNOLDS 39

PITCHER. Throws Right. Bats Right. Born Jan. 3, 1946. Height 6:02. Weight 205. Married. Home: Tyler, Texas.

Archie was named to the Pacific Coast League All-Star team in 1969, after the Tacoma Cubs won the PCL championship. . . . One of Tacoma's many heroes in its conquest of the league title, Archie compiled an ERA of 2.32 to finish second only to Tacoma's Jim Colborn in the league pitching race. . . . Also led the club with 3 shutouts, and tied a season PCL record by registering 8 straight wins. . . . Archie also played a key role in the playoffs. . . . With the T-Cubs down 2-1 in the best-of-five series, Archie pitched a two-hit 2-0 shut-out in game No. 4 to tie the series with Eugene (Ore.) and give Tacoma new life. . . . Reynolds spent 3 weeks with the major league club in mid-season, pitching only 11 innings, for a 2.57 ERA. . . . Archie got his first taste of the major leagues in August of '68, making his major league debut August 27th. . . . He missed part of the 1967 season due to military commitments, but racked up 71 strike-outs vs. only 25 walks in 97 innings. . . . His first year as a pro, 1966, he won 9 games, with a 2.13 ERA. . . . He was named a Junior College Baseball All-American at Paris (Texas) J. C. in '66.

KENNETH (KEN) RUDOLPH 8

CATCHER. Bats Right. Throws Right. Born Dec. 29, 1946. Height 6:01. Weight 180. Married. Home: Los Angeles, California.

Ken is one of the Cubs' leading candidates for the No. 1 reserve spot behind Cubs "Iron Man" catcher Randy Hundley. . . . Working behind Hundley requires a lot of patience, as Ken has discovered; he spent the entire 1969 season with the Cubs, with the exception of 10 days in mid-August, but appeared in only 27 games. . . . He was sent to San Antonio in mid-August, but quickly recalled when catcher Bill Heath suffered a broken finger during Ken Holtzman's no-hit game Aug. 19. . . . Rudolph got his first look at the major leagues in 1968; he spent 14 days with the major league club in July, but was optioned to Tacoma without ever appearing in a game. . . . He was selected in the free agent draft of June, 1965, and played in only 19 games with the Cubs' "rookie" classification team at Treasure Valley, before promotion to the Class "A" team at Quincy. . . . Caught at Lodi in the California League in '66 and '67. . . . Tho born in Rockford, Ill., Ken was reared in California, where he graduated from Cathedral High (Los Angeles) in 1964, after receiving 3 letters in baseball.

RONALD (RON) SANTO 10

INFIELDER. Bats Right. Throws Right. Born Feb. 25, 1940. Height 6:00. Weight 190. Married, 3 children. Home: Glenview, Illinois.

Long regarded the best third baseman in the National League, Ron had another outstanding season in 1969. . . . Elected to the National League All-Star team for his 6th appearance, Ron set an all-time personal high, driving in 123 runs last season, second only to Willie McCovey, who drove in 126. . . . Once again, he led the Cubs in homers (29), and he has moved into second place on the Cubs all-time home run list with a career total of 253, trailing only Ernie Banks in that category. . . . In addition to his prowess with the bat, Ron continued to add to his impressive fielding credentials: he finished second in the League in fielding percentage (.947). . . . Tied for the League lead in games (160), led the League in putouts (144), second in assists (334), and second in total chances accepted (505). . . . In the process, he tied the major league record for most years leading the league in games at third (7), and tied the National League record for most years leading the league in put-outs (7). . . .As a sign of enduring greatness, Ron is now in the top ten in 7 all-time Cub offensive lists: 8th in games, 9th in at-bats, 9th in hits, 2nd in home runs, 8th in total bases, 3rd in RBI, and 6th in extra base hits. . . . In 1968, Ron won the "Gold Glove" award for the 5th straight year for outstanding defensive work at third, and set or tied 4 major league or National League records along the way. . . . At the plate in '68, he became the 70th major leaguer in history to pass the 200 homer mark. . . . Hit his 3rd career grandslam homer in '68, winning a game vs. Los Angeles by a 4-0 score. . . . Ron also holds the club all-time record for home runs in a season by a Cub third baseman, with 33 in 1965. . . . Ron, entering his 10th major league season in 1970, broke into the Cubs regular line-up the same year he was promoted to the majors, only his second in pro ball. . . . Signed with the Cub organization after graduation from Franklin High School (Seattle) in 1959.

ROBERT (ROE) SKIDMORE 12

INFIELDER. Bats Right. Throws Right. Born Oct. 30, 1945. Height 6:03. Weight 188. Married, one daughter. Home: Decatur, Illinois.

Roe, muscle man of the 1969 Pacific Coast League champion Tacoma Cubs, may be asked to fill some big, big shoes in 1970. . . . Skidmore, who led Tacoma in almost every offensive category last season, is being billed as a possible back-up man for Ernie Banks at first base. . . . Named to the Pacific Coast League All-Star team for his work at Tacoma, he was third in the league in both home runs (16) and runs-batted-in (84). . . . He was second in the league with 33 doubles. . . . Roe joined the Cubs organization when chosen from the San Francisco organization in the professional draft in December of 1968. . . . In '68, he led the Midwest League in home runs, RBIs, and fielding at first base (.992). . . . Batted .305 and led first basemen in fielding for the Giants in the Arizona Instructional League the winter of '68. . . . Graduated from Millikin University (Decatur) in 1966, after hitting .445 his senior year. . . . Led his team to the Illinois state baseball championship at Eisenhower High (Decatur). . . . Originally signed by Atlanta, he was released after his first pro season and signed as a free agent by the Giants.

It would be difficult to completely assess the value of Willie to the 1969 Cubs. . . . One thing for sure: many will say he was responsible for launching the Cubs' exciting season. . . . Willie set the keynote the very first day of the season, April 8. . . . Almost 41,000 fans were jammed in Wrigley Field watching the Cubs lose to Philadelphia in extra innings when Willie was sent to the plate to pinch-hit. . . . He rocketed a two-run pinch home run into Sheffield Avenue to give the Cubs an 11-inning 7-6 win and turn Wrigley Field into bedlam. . . . Willie, the Cubs' top pinch-hitter the past two seasons, led all Cub pinch-hitters in '69 with 10 hits, 9 walks, and 11 RBIs. . . . Acquired June 27, 1968, from Cleveland for Lou Johnson, Willie became a member of the team in a hurry—quick with a smile and a joke, he's always ready to relieve tension. . . . Originally a pitcher, Willie made one relief appearance for the Cubs in '68, pitching 2.2 scoreless innings vs. San Francisco. . . . Before going to Cleveland, he was with the California Angels for almost three seasons. . . . It was with the Angels that he converted to an outfielder, hitting .301 in '64 to lead the team. . . . Signed to his first pro contract by the Detroit organization in 1960.

ALBERT (AL) SPANGLER 21

OUTFIELDER. Bats Left. Throws Left. Born July 8, 1933. Height 5:10. Weight 180. Married, 2 children. Home: Houston, Texas.

Al had a great deal to do with the Cubs' quick jump off the starting blocks in 1969. . . . The first two months of the season he was the hottest hitter on the club, not dropping below the .300 mark until May 21st. . . . Prior to that he was hitting in the high .300's, reaching his peak when he registered a .362 average May 7. . . . He was also in the top 10 hitters in the League during that period, listed 4th in the league May 7th. . . . Probably his biggest thrill of the season came June 12 when he socked two home runs against the Braves at Atlanta to lead the Cubs to a 12-6 win. . . . A ten-year veteran of the big leagues, Al is a spirited competitor. . . . In 1968, he was one of the Cubs' top pinch hitters, making more pinch appearances than any other Cub (46). . . . Al attended the Cubs spring training camp as a free agent in 1967, began that season at Tacoma, and when called to Chicago June 24th of that season, was hitting .326 for the T-Cubs. . . . He broke into the majors with Milwaukee in 1959. . . . Was acquired by Houston in the expansion draft after the 1961 season, and after 4 seasons with the Astros was traded to the California Angels. . . . In '66, he hit .292 for Seattle of the Pacific Coast League and when called up to the Angels that year hit .667 as a pinch-hitter. . .. A graduate of Duke University, he spent the '56-'57 seasons in military service.

CHESTER STEPHENSON JR. 50

Stephenson is a relative newcomer to the Cubs organization who spent most of the last two seasons in military service. . . . Released from active duty late last season, he pitched 45 innings at Quincy before the end of the schedule. . . . Signed by the Cubs in 1967, he looked impressive his first pro season, compiling an 8-7 record and a 2.90 ERA for Quincy. . . . He lettered in baseball while attending Campbell College (Buies Creek, N.C.). . . . Graduated from Benson High School in 1965, where he lettered in baseball and basketball, and was named Most Valuable Player and All-Conference three straight years. . . . Selected to the North Carolina All-State American Legion team in 1965. . . . He played semi-pro ball in 1966, recording 9 straight strike-outs in a game.

BILLY WILLIAMS 26

OUTFIELDER. Bats Left. Throws Right. Born June 15, 1938. Height 6:01. Weight 175. Married, 4 daughters. Home: Chicago, Illinois.

Billy is steadily writing his name into the books as one of the best players in the history of the Chicago Cubs. . . . At the same time, he is also making a mark on all of major league baseball. . . . June 29, 1969, is a day Billy will long remember; that day he set a new National League record by appearing in his 895th and 896th consecutive games to eclipse a record previously held by the great Stan Musial. . . . Before a standing-room-only crowd of 41,000 (largest of the season) on "Billy Williams Day" he celebrated his new record by going 5-for-9 in the doubleheader, including two triples and two doubles. . . . Billy was the only Cub to appear in all 163 games in 1969, and carries a string of 982 straight games into the 1970 season. . . . He has not missed a game since Sept. 21, 1963, and has played in 6 consecutive seasons without a miss. . . . He also tied two major league records in '69: most two-base hits in one game (4, April 9) and making all club's hits in one game (4, Sept. 5). . . . Also, he led the Cubs in hitting (.293) in hits (188), total bases (304), triples (10), and was third in home runs (21) and RBI (95). . . . Heading into his 10th season with the Cubs, Billy is in the top ten in 9 all-time Cub offensive departments: 3rd in homers (249), 4th in RBI (856), 4th in extra base hits (582), 6th in total bases (2,806), 8th in runs (861) in hits (1,656) and in at-bats (5,695), 9th in doubles (263) and 10th in games (1,472). . . . July 17, 1966, Billy accomplished the rare feat of becoming the 6th Cub in history to hit for the cycle (single-double-triple-homer in one game). . . . He was "Rookie of the Year" in the National League in 1961. . . . Billy joined the Cubs organization after graduation from high school in Whistler, Alabama, in 1956.

DONALD (DON) YOUNG 29

OUTFIELDER. Bats Right. Throws Right. Born Oct. 18, 1945. Height 6:03. Weight 185. Single. Home: Los Angeles, California.

Don, who played class "A" level baseball in 1968, became the Cubs regular center fielder in 1969 through a series of circumstances which were most unusual. . . . He was invited to the major league spring training camp in '69 at his own request to begin working early to condition a throwing arm weakened by an injury in 1968. . . . When center fielder Adolfo Phillips suffered a broken bone in his right hand during spring training, Don was given a chance to make the big club. . . . When Phillips was traded to Montreal June 11 for infielder Paul Popovich, Don became a regular member of the Cubs line-up. . . . He appeared in 100 games in the outfield last season, and was second in defense among Cub outfielders, with a .975 fielding percentage. . . . Don's arrival last season capped a 6-year struggle to make the major leagues. . . . Signed originally by the Cardinals in 1963, he was obtained by the Cubs the next year on a first-year waiver claim. . . . Named to the Texas League All-Star team in 1965, he was called to Chicago late that season. . . . He was traded back to the Cardinals in 1967, but returned to the Cubs after aggravating an old back injury. . . . In '68 he was assigned to Lodi, a class "A" team. . . . He graduated from Aurora High School in 1963 after being named to All-State, All-City and All-Conference teams in baseball. . . . Played with the Colorado state championship American Legion team in 1961-62.

SENIOR CITIZENS DAY ONCE AGAIN TUESDAY

As in past years, every Tuesday the Cubs play at home is Senior Citizens' Day. Anyone 65 or older is admitted to the Wrigley Field grandstand of only $1.00.

THE STORY OF WRIGLEY FIELD

Wrigley Field—home of the Chicago Cubs—embodies over half a century of major league tradition. But in addition to the tradition which is alive in every nook and cranny of the Cubs' pleasant northside home, Wrigley Field is also the scene of constant improvement.

Pioneers in providing a pleasant park-like atmosphere for family enjoyment, the Cubs conduct a continuous program of modernization, improvement and renovation of the structure and field. In an age which is seeing a trend toward multi-purpose stadia, Wrigley Field is one of the few remaining parks designed specifically for baseball.

Located on 7.7 acres in the heart of Chicago's North Side (street boundaries are Clark, Addison, Sheffield, and Waveland), Wrigley Field features an attractively landscaped field for day baseball enjoyment for the entire family.

More Improvements for 1970

In the last 11 years, more than $3,250,000 has been invested on improvements at Wrigley Field. This figure is over and above expenditures for each year's regular maintenance.

During the past winter, the Cubs completed improvements valued at approximately $750,000. More than 7,500 new seats were installed, replacing old ones, in both the upper and lower decks.

In addition, a portion of the lower deck grandstand was rebuilt. The section, directly behind home plate, involved the installation of modern pre-cast concrete construction.

Another project completed at Wrigley Field over the winter was the third phase of the 4-year program to reconstruct the entire upper deck. In the winters of 1967-68 and '68-69, the upper deck was rebuilt from the left field end to behind home plate. This past winter, this work was continued from that point toward right field.

Early History of the Park

The Cubs moved to the North Side location from the old West Side park in 1916. The site had been the playing field of the Chicago Whales baseball team in the short-lived Federal League, which operated in 1914-15. The original seating capacity was 14,000.

The first major improvements in 1922-23 involved moving back and enlarging the grandstand, increasing capacity to 20,000. Next the park was double-decked in 1926 and '27. In 1937 the improved bleachers were built. Then in 1938 wide chairs were installed in the boxes and grandstand. This added to the comfort of the fans, reducing the park's total seating capacity by several thousand.

To enhance the park-like atmosphere, ivy vines were grown on the outfield walls, instead of the clutter of advertising signs. The big scoreboard and clock are unmarred by advertising.

How the Park Got Its Name

For some years the park was known as Cubs Park. Then in 1926 it was officially named Wrigley Field in honor of the late William Wrigley Jr.

In 1916, Mr. Wrigley was one of a group of civic-minded Chicagoans who bought the Cubs from out-of-town interests that had been absentee owners of the club for nearly 10 years. In 1921 he bought out some of the others to acquire an interest of over 50%, continuing as majority owner until he passed away in 1932. The Cubs won two pennants under his leadership, and four more under Phil Wrigley, the present-day principal owner of the Club.

How to Get Tickets—Information on Prices

Reserved seat tickets for all games are available by mail. Just send your order to Ticket Manager, Wrigley Field, Chicago, Ill. 60613. Available on the morning of every home game are 22,432 grandstand and bleacher seats, for which no reservations are needed.

Reserved tickets can be purchased in advance at the Wrigley Field Ticket Office (Addison and Shefield) and at Bond's downtown store (234 S. State St., near Jackson). All reserved seats are $3.50 per person. Children's reserved seat tickets are the same price.

Grandstand tickets are $1.75 for adults and $1.00 for children under 14. Admission to the bleachers is $1.00 for everyone.

How to Get to the Park

Located at Clark and Addison Sts., 3600 North, 1000 West. Clark St. buses (No. 22) and Addison buses (No. 152) take you to main gates. CTA Rapid Transit trains ("L" and subway) take you to ¼ block from the ball park (Addison St. station). All northbound and southbound trains on the North-South Rapid Transit route stop at Addison on days of all Cubs home games throughout the season.

The Flags of Wrigley Field

At all Cubs home games Old Glory flies from the centerfield masthead, highest point in the park. The flags of the 12 National League cities, 8 States, and Quebec fly at the Clark St. entrance.

Before and during each game, 12 pennants, one for each National League Club, fly from the yardarms in the order of the standings of each division on the morning of the game—the first place team in the East Division at top left, and the West Division leader at top right.

The Chicago Cubs flag—red and white on a blue background—display 16 red stars representing the Club's 16 National League Championships. The two blue stars represent the Club's two World Championships.

ITEMS OF INTEREST ABOUT THE 1970 CUBS TEAM

Forty-four players are listed on the Cubs' major league spring training roster, but 6 were on the military list prior to the start of camp. Of that number, at least two were not expected to be present for any of spring training: pitcher Alec Distaso, who will not be discharged from active military duty until mid-May, and infielder Matthew Alexander, who began a two-year hitch in the U.S. Navy Reserve last fall.

* * * * *

Eighteen players on the 1970 major league spring roster were not on the Cubs' 1969 spring roster: pitchers Hank Aguirre, Jim Colborn, Jim Cosman, Ken Johnson, Ron Jones, Dave Lemonds, and Chester Stephenson. . . . Catchers Bill Heath and Johnny Hairston. . . . Infielders Matthew Alexander, Nate Oliver, Paul Popovich and Roe Skidmore. . . . And outfielders Johnny Callison, Charles "Boots" Day, Jimmie Hall, Cleo James, and Don Young.

* * * * *

Of the 18 new faces from a year ago, Hank Aguirre and Don Young were signed to major league contracts by the Cubs during the 1969 spring training period.

* * * * *

Two of the 18 new players were obtained from other organizations during the past winter: Johnny Callison was acquired from Philadelphia for Dick Selma and Oscar Gamble November 18, and "Boots" Day was obtained from St. Louis for Rich Nye December 4.

* * * * *

Four of the 18 new players were obtained from other organizations during the 1969 season: Paul Popovich was acquired from Montreal in exchange for Adolfo Phillips. . . . The contracts of Ken Johnson, Jimmie Hall, and Nate Oliver were purchased from the New York Yankees.

* * * * *

Two of the new players on the 1970 roster were obtained in the professional draft last December: pitcher Jim Cosman, chosen from New York Mets' organization, and outfielder Cleo James, picked from the Los Angeles Dodgers' system.

* * * * *

The remaining 8 new faces on the 1970 spring roster were promoted from the Cubs' associated clubs: pitchers Jim Colborn, Ron Jones, Dave Lemonds, and Chester Stephenson. . . . Catchers Bill Heath and Johnny Hairston. . . . And infielders Roe Skidmore and Matthew Alexander.

* * * * *

Eleven members of the 1970 Cubs spent all or part of the 1969 season with the Pacific Coast League champion Tacoma Cubs: pitchers Jim Colborn, Archie Reynolds, Joe Decker, Darcy Fast and Dave Lemonds. . . . Catchers Randy Bobb, Johnny Hairston, and Bill Heath. . . . Infielder Jim Qualls. . . . And outfielders Jim Dunegan and Jimmy McMath.

* * * * *

Average age of the 19 pitchers listed on the Cubs spring roster is just over 25. Eleven of the 19 pitchers are 23 or younger. Only four are over 30: Ted Abernathy (36), Hank Aguirre (36), Ken Johnson (36), and Phil Regan (32). The Cubs' big three starters are in their 20's: Ken Holtzman (25), Fergie Jenkins (26), and Bill Hands (29).

* * * * *

Of the 44 players on the 1970 spring training roster, average age is 26. Senior member of the squad is Ernie Banks, who celebrated his 39th birthday in January. Youngest member of the spring squad is pitcher Ron Jones, age 20.

CUBS TRAINING BASE AT SCOTTSDALE

Ideal weather is of prime concern when a major league baseball club picks a location for its training operations. Scottsdale, located in Arizona's famous "Valley of the Sun" and just a stone's throw from Phoenix, one of the largest cities in the great Southwest, boasts consistently ideal training weather.

Plenty of sunshine and dry, bracing desert air feature Scottsdale's climate. The sun shines 86 per cent of the possible time, the humidity rarely climbs above the 20 per cent mark.

Seven Teams Now Train in The Southwest

The Cubs, in their fourth year of training at Scottsdale, have been joined by six major league teams in the Southwest. Four teams now train in the "Valley"; the Cubs at Scottsdale, the San Francisco Giants at Phoenix, the Oakland Athletics at Mesa, and the Seattle Pilots at Tempe. Also training in Arizona are the Cleveland Indians at Tucson, and the San Diego Padres at Yuma. The California Angels train in nearby Palm Springs, California.

Top-Quality Playing Facilities

The major league club holds its spring workouts and plays the home games on the spring exhibition schedule in Scottsdale Stadium—a full-sized playing field that's major league in quality. The Stadium has a seating capacity of 4,200.

Adjoining the playing field at the Stadium is a half-diamond, which consists of a complete infield layout to supplement the main field for workouts. Just a short distance from the Stadium are two complete playing fields and another half-diamond. Here the players with the Cubs' associated clubs at Tacoma, Washington; San Antonio, Texas; Quincy, Illinois; and Huron, South Dakota, are given an opportunity to get ready for the coming season, under the direction of the Cubs' instructional staff.

Winter Training at Same Base

Each October, a team comprised of youngsters from the Cubs associated clubs mentioned above, as well as the Cubs "rookie" classification team at Caldwell, Idaho (Treasure Valley) swing into action in the Arizona Instructional League.

As in spring training, Scottsdale Stadium is home base for the Cubs instructional team, and home games are played there against teams representing other major league clubs.

The city's official hosts for baseball activities are the Charros, a civic-minded group of younger business men associated with the Scottsdale Chamber of Commerce. The Charros, named for the gentried Spanish horsemen who were the go-getters of their day, also sponsor trail rides, rodeos, golf tournaments, and other sports activities.

1969 SEASON HIGHLIGHTS

The Cubs provided one of the most exciting seasons in recent memory last year. . . . They started fast, winning their season opener over Philadelphia 6-5 on an 11th inning homer by Willie Smith, and went on to win 11 of their first 12 games. . . . The Cubs held down first place in the Eastern Division of the National League from April 8 to Sept. 10.

* * * * *

Fan support for the Cubs in 1969 was the best in the 94-year history of the team. . . . 1,674,993 persons paid to watch the Cubs play at Wrigley Field, an all-time attendance record. . . . The old record of 1,485,166 had stood since 1929.

* * * * *

Largest crowd of the season in 1969 turned out at Wrigley Field June 29, "Billy Williams Day," as 41,060 came to help Billy celebrate the setting of a new National League record for consecutive games. . . . He heads into 1970 with 982 straight appearances.

* * * * *

The Cubs record of 92 wins and 70 losses represents their best record since 1945 when they won the National League pennant, posting a mark of 98-56.

* * * * *

The Cubs improved their team batting average in 1969 to .253, from the .242 average of 1968. . . . They boosted their team home run production from 130 to 142, and their runs-batted-in out-put from 576 to 671, both marks second in the league in 1969. . . . Ron Santo's personal career high of 123 RBI was also second in the league. . . . Santo also led the league with 14 sacrifice flies. . . . Don Kessinger was second in the league with 38 doubles.

* * * * *

Ernie Banks connected for 23 home runs in 1969 to boost his career total to 497. . . . In 1970, he should become the first Cub in history to go over the 500-homer mark. . . . Banks leads the Cubs in eight all-time offensive departments.

* * * * *

The Cubs lost only two season series to other teams, posting an 8-10 record against the New York Mets and a 7-11 record against the Pittsburgh Pirates. . . . On the other hand, they enjoyed marked success against several teams, beating San Diego 11-1, Atlanta 9-3, and Philadelphia 12-6.

* * * * *

The Cub's pitching staff in 1969 boasted two 20-game winners. . . . Fergie Jenkins posted a record of 21-15 and Bill Hands a record of 20-14. . . . Last time two Cubs pitchers each registered 20 wins in a full season with the Cubs was in 1935—Bill Lee (20-6) and Lon Warneke (20-13).

* * * * *

Jenkins, the first Cub pitcher to win at least 20 games 3 seasons in a row since Hippo Vaughn did it in 1917-19, set a National League record for most strike-outs by a right-hander (273). . . . Fergie also led the League in starts, with 42, a club season record.

* * * * *

The Cub pitching staff turned in a total of 22 shut-outs, second in the League, and way ahead of the 12 they turned in in 1968. . . . The staff also recorded 1,017 strike-outs, second in the League.

* * * * *

Three Cubs hit grand slam home runs in 1969—Jim Hickman, Randy Hundley, and Ernie Banks. . . . Banks now has 12 in his career, leading active players along with Hank Aaron, who also has 12.

THE CHICAGO CUBS PROGRAM FOR DEVELOPING YOUNG PLAYERS

Scouting, signing, and developing the Cubs of the future is an activity that occupies a major share of the Club's attention. The members of a nationwide scouting staff are constantly on the hunt for young major league prospects. Skilled roving instructors and managers of associated clubs, especially selected for their ability to work with youngsters, provide guidance as the players gain professional experience leading toward the "big club" in Chicago.

These pages present information on some of the key people in the development program that is carried on thru associated clubs at Tacoma, Washington; San Antonio, Texas; Quincy, Illinois; Huron, South Dakota; and Caldwell, Idaho (Treasure Valley)—plus the Scottsdale team in the Arizona Winter Instructional League.

INSTRUCTIONAL COACHES

LOUIS (LOU) KLEIN

Louis (Lou) Klein managed the Cubs' team in the Arizona Instructional League to its second straight championship last winter. His team turned in a 35-13 record. The remainder of the year, Lou is a roving batting instructor in the Cubs' system. He joined the Cubs' coaching staff in '61, after managing 5 different clubs in the organization. In 1958, he led Ft. Worth to the Texas League pennant. In his playing days, Lou was a top notch infielder. Broke into the majors with St. Louis in '43, played 3 years in the Mexican League (1946-48), then returned to the Cardinals.

FRED MARTIN

Fred Martin, roving pitching instructor, has been the pitching coach of the Cubs' team in the Arizona Instructional League the past two winters. The team has won the league title both years as Fred's pitching staffs compiled records of 35-13 (1969) and 35-11 (1968). Joined the Cubs organization in 1960 to manage (Northern League). His remarkable pitching career extended over a period of 24 years, with time out for 4 years with the Army in World War II. Was still active at 44 as a relief pitcher with Houston. Began his pro career with St. Louis system in 1935.

LOCKMAN — TACOMA

Carroll (Whitey) Lockman, Manager of the Year in the Pacific Coast League in 1969, led the Tacoma Cubs to the League title. In a thrill-packed play-off series, Tacoma came from two games down to win the series 3-2 from Eugene (Ore.). Before managing Tacoma, Whitey was a coach with the Chicago Cubs (1966). In his first year in the Cubs organization he was named Manager of the Year in the Texas League (1965). Earlier he coached for the San Francisco Giants. He was an All Star first baseman as a player, starting in 1945 with the New York Giants. Played in the World Series in 1951 and 1954.

MARSHALL — SAN ANTONIO

R. James "Jim" Marshall is in his third season with the Cubs' organization, his second as manager of the San Antonio Missions. In this "rookie" season as a manager (1968), he led his club (Lodi) to a third place finish in the California League. Joined the Cubs after operating a sporting goods business several years. Played both the infield and outfield for the Cubs, after being acquired from Baltimore. Broke into the majors with the Orioles early in '58. Also saw service with San Francisco and Pittsburgh. Jim owned an impressive record in AAA and AA ball.

DIXON — QUINCY

Walt Dixon, who is in his 30th year in pro baseball, led the Quincy Cubs to a 64-55 record in 1969. Walt, who is in his 5th season at Quincy, began his managerial career in 1949. Was a player-manager 9 seasons before devoting full time to managing. Has 3 first place and 3 second place finishes to his credit. Walt joined the Cub organization in 1957. Signed his first pro contract in 1940 with the Boston organization as a pitcher. Walt served in the Army Air Corps 1943-45.

FREESE — HURON

George Freese was promoted to the Huron Cubs of the Northern League this year, after 6 seasons with the Treasure Valley Cubs of the Pioneer League. In his years with the Cubs' rookie classification team, George compiled an overall record of 217-181, along with two league championships and two seconds—testimony to his ability to work with young players. George joined the Cubs coaching staff in 1964, after 14 years of pro playing experience, including time in the majors with Detroit in 1953 and the Cubs in 1961.
